change in its size, structure, tenure and leadership

FBCCI initiates dialogue & discussion with Chambers & Associations leaders to initiate reform in FBCCI

From the Desk of the Administrator

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to present the monthly E-bulletin for the month October, 2024. This edition includes a variety of contents produced by FBCCI from different aspects including new business approaches, necessary reforms in business bodies and a possible future administration in FBCCI.

Students and mass people uprising in Bangladesh during July and August, 2024 have paved the way for heralding changes in many sectors including trade and businesses. The youth-led movement also demanded for corporate accountability and reforms in the business sector.

The pressure was so powerful that many institutions unwilling to bring coveted changes were compelled to undertake changes hitherto unthinkable. The movement centered around demands for justice, equality, and reform, have directly impacted the country's political and business landscape. The heat was felt in the chambers and associations bodies where there was a growing urge for changing boards, adopting new policies and regulations to foster democratic and participatory election and to select energetic and accountable leadership through a fair, free and transparent election process. The Federation of Bangladesh Chambers of Commerce and Industries (FBCCI) - the apex trade body of Bangladesh is no exception to this. The strong current of social and political elements have compelled its previous leadership to resign and thus allowing government to appoint an administrator to conduct a free, fair and participatory election.

As administrator it is going to be my second month and during this time, I have the opportunity to understand and grasp the complexity, dynamics and greatness of this business body. The interaction with different business bodies like chamber, joint chambers and associations, the visit to markets, the interplay between businessmen and policy makers really worth studying. It is a daunting task nonetheless a unique opportunity to for civil servants like us to gauge the challenges and risks undertaken by businessmen of our country. I am really indebted to the government and FBCCI for providing me this wonderful opportunity. Taking the opportunity, I would like to put it on record that I shall leave no stones unturned to conduct a reliable, acceptable and participatory election for FBCCI. I am also committed to bring necessary reforms in this business body after threadbare consultation and meeting with chambers and associations and its leaders. The month of October is very important due to this consultation processes. During this month we have initiated discussion formally and informally with business leaders and member of trade bodies.

As I shoulder the responsibility of FBCCI, it is important for me to help Government's measures to stabilize the daily essential commodities in the market & as doing so, I visited along with FBCCI's Market Monitoring Cell different kitchen markets in Dhaka to motivate businesses community to work together to keep the commodity prices stable. We also held discussions with retailers, wholesalers as well as corporate bodies aiming to keep the supply chain of the essential commodities like egg, chicken, onion and potato stable. To create a conducive environment and to help businessmen to carry out their business activities safely and responsibly, FBCCI held a number of zoom meetings with business leaders from sectoral associations during October.

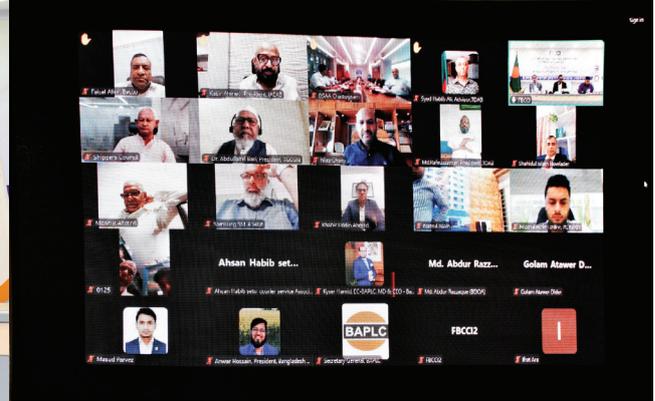

Though there were some set back in trade & business during July-August uprising, but with the passage of time, things have settled down and now business is getting momentum, inflation is gradually contained. FBCCI though is run by administrator, it has not deviated from it's goals. FBCCI still remains committed to its mission of promoting and protecting the interests of the private sector through providing valuable insights and creating opportunities.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all our members, partners, and stakeholders for congratulating me and giving their support to FBCCI's endeavors. Together we aspire to bring change and reforms in the economic & trade sector of Bangladesh. We also look forward to a democratic and business friendly milieu in our country.

Warm regards,

Md. Hafizur Rahman
Administrator, FBCCI

Bangladesh- Argentina Trade Opportunities and Challenges

The relation between Bangladesh and Argentina reached a new height when at the end of Qatar world cup in 2021, Argentinian Foreign Minister came to Bangladesh in 2022 to inaugurate the Embassy building of Argentina in Bangladesh. In the Qatar World Cup, Bangladeshi fans wholeheartedly supported the Argentinian team which created a great sensation among the Argentinian People and government. It is this football mania that was a great factor to expedite the strong relationship between the two countries. The friendship between the two countries which was based on football ultimately transformed into business and other relations.

Bangladesh imported products such as soybean oil, sugar and edible oil worth $791 million from Argentina in the 2022-23 fiscal year. On the other hand, Bangladesh exported products worth $9.52 million during the same FY. There are opportunities for better trade with Argentina. There is a huge trade deficit with Argentina and Bangladesh can minimize that trade gap by increasing exports, especially of RMG items. If barriers are removed, Bangladeshi exports can reach to $1-1.5 billion in the short time.

Bangladeshi goods, such as garments, jute and leather products, generic drugs, pharmaceutical products, ceramic and plastic, home textiles, agricultural and processed agricultural products, shrimp, frozen food, bicycles, refrigerators, air conditioners, light engineering products have a good chance to be exported to Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay and Paraguay.

But as ill luck would have it, Bangladeshi products face tariffs ranging from 8% to 35% when entering the Argentine market. In addition, there are also barriers such as anti-dumping policies. Argentina has imposed an anti-dumping duty of $16 per kg on Bangladeshi jute bags and sacks.

It is against this reality that Free Trade Agreements (FTA) or Preferential Trade Agreements (PTA) with other countries, including Argentina and other members of the Southern Common Market, commonly known as Mercosur should be signed at the earliest. For this initiative G2G and B2B initiatives should be started soon. The present delegation is visiting Brazil to explore such opportunities and to establish people to people, B2B connectivity.

Last year, Bangladesh and Argentina, signed three agreements and a MOU with the visiting Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs, International Trade and Worship Mr. Santiago Andrés CAFIERO with his counterpart in Bangladesh.

Under the MoU Bangladeshi footballers will have the opportunity to get training in Argentina. Another two agreements include cooperation between the sports academies of the two countries, and allowing Bangladeshi government officials to travel to Argentina without Visa.

During the visit Argentine Foreign Minister Santiago Cafiero opened the new Argentine Embassy in Dhaka. With the reopening of the embassy and its consular section, the country seeks to exploit the potential of the bilateral relationship, mainly in the commercial aspect.

Executives from companies - Marolio, Ecofactory, Vetanco, Lipotech, Luna de los Andes, Letis, Santo Pipó, Instituto Nacional de la Yerba Mate (INYM), The Halal Catering Argentina HCB, Havanna, Arcor, Baltazar -Alfa Pampa, Suplefeed, Ronaldb, Club Atlético River Plate and Cargill - travelled with Cafiero.

In 2022, bilateral trade with Bangladesh was US$765 million. Argentine exports reached US$742.9 million and imports from Bangladesh totaled US$22.1 million. A trade surplus for Argentina of US$720.8 million was registered in 2022.

Bangladesh and Argentina also signed a memorandum of understanding for the first time for bilateral cooperation in the field of agriculture. Under the MoU, Bangladesh will receive priority in smart agriculture technical support, greater agricultural trade and collaboration including the import of wheat and soybeans.
